We Dedicate

To Mr. Elijah L. Thompson, whose thirty-five years of service to Cleveland have meant more than words can express, we, the Senior Class, dedicate the 1966 edition of THE RAM. We hope that this small token will in some way show the appreciation we feel for all you have done for us, for our school, and for our community.

To you, Mr. Thompson, we express our heartfelt thanks.

To Mr. Thompson

Our Thanks To You

We extend our deepest appreciation to you, our parents, who have sacrificed much in our behalf. Without your love, patience, understanding, and guidance, we would not be the graduating class of 1966.

Thank You!

Poem

The end of a happy and carefree day
Is surely drawing nigh;
We think of all that we must leave,
But life must not pass us by.

We reluctantly turn from the things at hand;
Our fortunes we must seek.
There are corners yet to turn,
And miles to go before we sleep.

The love from parents, teachers, and friends
Has brought us to this day.
We can never repay for all they've done,
But "thank you, dear hearts," we'll say.

The good and bad, the happy, the sad--
Of these we were always a part;
The memories acquired, the good times shared--
All will remain in our hearts.

May God with His love enfold us,
And guide our steps each day--
Higher and always upward
In His own heavenly way.

Let us always lend a helping hand
To those who are in need;
For if we sow seeds of kindness,
Then kindness we shall reap.

We must never stray from what is right
As we weave our "patch of blue."
We must be examples for those behind--
Ever faithful, ever true.

Now as we turn and take life's hand,
Let us set our goals--high.
If we use our time wisely, and our talents the same,
Then life will not pass us by.

Class History

"Remember when we were in the first grade? Just think, there were seventy-seven of us then."

"And oh, that field trip in the sixth grade! You'd think we had never seen dirt before. That was the year Jerry West came--how can we ever forget?"

"You can imagine Mrs. Coats and Mr. Barbour had their hands full trying to keep us in line and prepare us for high school. Remember our trip that year? College campuses have not yet returned to normal."

"The turn of the century brought its problems, we were in high school! Remember how lost we were those first weeks? As winter came, we participated in sports."

"What a team we had--most of the boys and six freshmen girls tried to play basketball. In the tenth grade, we cut those frogs, real surgeons, weren't we? That year, Andrew Johnson came. Remember how quiet he was at first? Boy, has he ever changed!"

"Oh what fun we had fixing the fence for the prom. I doubt any of us have forgotten the wonderful time we had that night and the following night was just as memorable."

"Our senior year held lots of hard work. Remember choosing mascots and superlatives? Then, there was our senior play. What a laugh!"

"Oh! Don't forget! We were able to change the stone of our class rings to blue. How can we ever forget the fun we had in Washington, D.C. ! Reckon the hotel will ever forget?"

The familiar sound of "Pomp and Circumstance" was music to our ears. This time, our long awaited dream had come true. We faced the world with the future in our own hands. The training that the teachers at Cleveland High School gave us prevented the future from being so bleak and bare.

The future of our class proved just as successful as the past. Some of us have really distinguished ourselves.

"Have you heard about Bruce Stephenson? I hear that he is now a Congressman up in Washington."

"Is it really true that Gary McGee is now the pharmacist in a large Chicago drugstore, owned by Wayne Coats?"

"You know, since high school, I've lost track of so many... say, is Andrew Johnson still playing basketball with the Boston Celtics?"

"I heard from Barbara McGee last week. She's working as a fashion consultant for Macy's, and Willa Mae Byrd is modeling her designs."

"I met Julia Langdon on the street last week. She informed me that she, Linda Langley and Johnie King are now commanding robots in the Raleigh branch of IBM."

"Did you see The News and Observer yesterday? North Carolina has received two well-known lab technicians-- Judy Thrower and Mary Ann Stephenson--who are working at Wake Memorial Hospital."

"They say Frank Austin is still trying to figure out the bookkeeping system set up by his secretary, Cecelia Stephenson."

"It sure was nice talking to you, Ricky, but I must get back to the campus for my next class--trigonometry."

"I've got to get back to work, too, Rose. I have an appointment with Ken Stephenson, a Massey-Ferguson representative, about a new tractor I have designed."

And so, as time passes, our class shall continue to make as much history as previously stated.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-Six, being of sound mind(?) and body and under normal conditions, do hereby bequeath this Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I

We, the Seniors, leave to our parents our appreciation and gratitude for all the help and encouragement they have given us over the past twelve years.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. Benton and the faculty, who have served as our guiding light and steadying influence, we leave our deepest thanks.

ARTICLE III

To our Senior sponsors, Mrs. Prince and Mrs. Twisdale, we leave our appreciation for withstanding so much—most of which was impossible.

ARTICLE IV

To the Junior Class, we leave the joys and responsibilities they will soon have as Seniors.

ARTICLE V

To the Sophmores, we leave all our pranks, nooks, and nerve, hoping they are smart enough to use them.

ARTICLE VI

To the Freshmen we leave our four-year journey, reminding them that they will get out of it exactly what they put into it.

ARTICLE VII

- I, Tim Adams, leave everyone in Mrs. Prince's homeroom next year the ability to sneak out before the bell rings and not get caught.
- I, Rhonda Allen, leave my natural red hair to Sandra Johnson.
- I, Frances Baker, leave to my sister, Betty, all my extra pounds because she needs them.
- I, Kenneth Byrd, leave my "bucket seats" and console cushion to Sonny Johnson, saying, "The heck with 'em!"
- I, Neta Byrd, leave my "Miss Congeniality" award and superlative of "Cutest" to Sharon Ennis, saying, "You look like a winner!"
- I, Willa Mae Byrd, leave my talent of hair styling to Brenda Coats, saying, "Good luck."
- I, Faye Carroll, leave my laps around the gym to Irene Morris, saying, "Run'em honey!"
- I, Bradford Clifton, leave to Roger Stephenson my superlative of "Most Talented."
- I, Janet Coats, leave in such a hurry that I'm taking everything with me.
- I, Jeanette Coats, leave the library my biography, TWELVE YEARS AS A PRISONER.
- I, Wayne Coats, leave my "bunsen" to Dennis Stephenson hoping the flame doesn't die out.
- I, Lottie Dry, leave to my little sis, Lucy, my superlative of "Best All Around" saying, "May you be as honored as I was."
- I, Kathern Etheridge, leave to Tabatha Matthews the ability to get to the ballgames on time.
- I, Elaine Honeycutt, leave my ability to talk to my cousin Tommy Honeycutt, saying, "It doesn't run in the family."
- I, Andrew Johnson, leave the seventeenth letter of the alphabet to the Juniors hoping they have as much fun with it as we Seniors have had.
- I, Linda Johnson, leave bus 135 to Ronnie Jones, saying, "Beware of mailboxes."
- I, Johnie King, leave Bob Mangum my three-duces, saying, "Down with Chevys."
- I, Jerry Langdon, leave my seat in Mrs. Prince's homeroom to anyone fool enough to take it.
- I, Julia Langdon, leave to my brother Tyra my typewriter, saying, "If at first you make a 'S', type, type again."
- I, Linda Langley, leave my ability to style hair during class to anyone who can do it and get by with it.
- I, Emily Lassiter, leave to be with my future husband, Eddie.
- I, Linda Lee, leave my ability to jump center in the ballgames to Becky Trader, saying, "Height makes the difference."
- I, Barbara McGee, leave to my little sister, Janet, my desire to do my best in everything I attempt and my ability to make the honor roll.
- I, Gary McGee, leave to my brother, Ray, my ability to pass so he may play basketball.
- I, Kay McGee, leave my ability to graduate from "Cleveland" to Diane McGee and all the rest of the McGee's, saying, "Keep up the family tradition."
- I, Brenda Parrish, leave my little red bug to Sue Smith, saying, "Halt! This ain't no speed machine."
- I, Katrina Raftery, leave my ability to finish school to my brother Allen.
- I, Rose Roberts, leave my inability to tell time to Larry Johnson.
- I, Bruce Stephenson, leave my ability to stay at Cleveland and not transfer to another school to play football to Weldon Byrd.
- I, Mary Ann Stephenson, leave my superlative of "Most Attractive" to Gerald Stephenson in hopes that he can will it to Jo Ellen Pope.
- We, Cecelia Stephenson and Frank Austin, leave together.
- I, Ken Stephenson, leave to my brother Reid four years of high school misery.
- I, Teresa Stephenson, leave my growing pills to my brother, Davey, hoping they will benefit him.
- I, Judy Thrower, leave for California to be with my sailor.
- I, Jerry West, leave to Joe Mike Barefoot all the girls in Clayton.
- I, Ricky Young, leave all the good times I've had at Cleveland High to Joy Parrish because I'm sure she will make the best of them.

Guidance

The guidance program is in its 6th year here at Cleveland. It has proved to be a worthwhile part of our school. It has provided vocation information and scholarship information for high school students. Standardized test interpretation, aid with selection of colleges, and personal problems are other services rendered by the department.

In today's world when an early selection of a vocation is so important, it is indeed a necessity to give serious thought in the early years of our high school work. The guidance department has been of great value to us in this respect.

In the fall a young lady's fancy turns lightly to the thoughts of ... basketball. The final bell of the day is the signal for the fifteen girls on the basketball team to rush to the dressing room to dress for practice. The first order of business is to develop a sound foundation in fundamentals. This task is not an easy one, but it must be mastered by a successful team. Building a sound offensive and defensive attack is next on the agenda. After four weeks of practice, we take to the hardwood to represent the Blue and White. Tuesday and Friday nights bring the games ... some won, some lost.

Who's gonna get it?

You mean we've got to play another half?

Yes, I know the goal's that way.

That was a funny one!

Now, just calm down!

Reach for the stars - - oops - - meant basketball!

What's coming off?

Bet she missed it!

Action

Go to your corners and come out fighting!

I don't quite get that.

Aw, come on Bird!

Now this is the last time I'm telling you!

Believe it or not, he hit it!

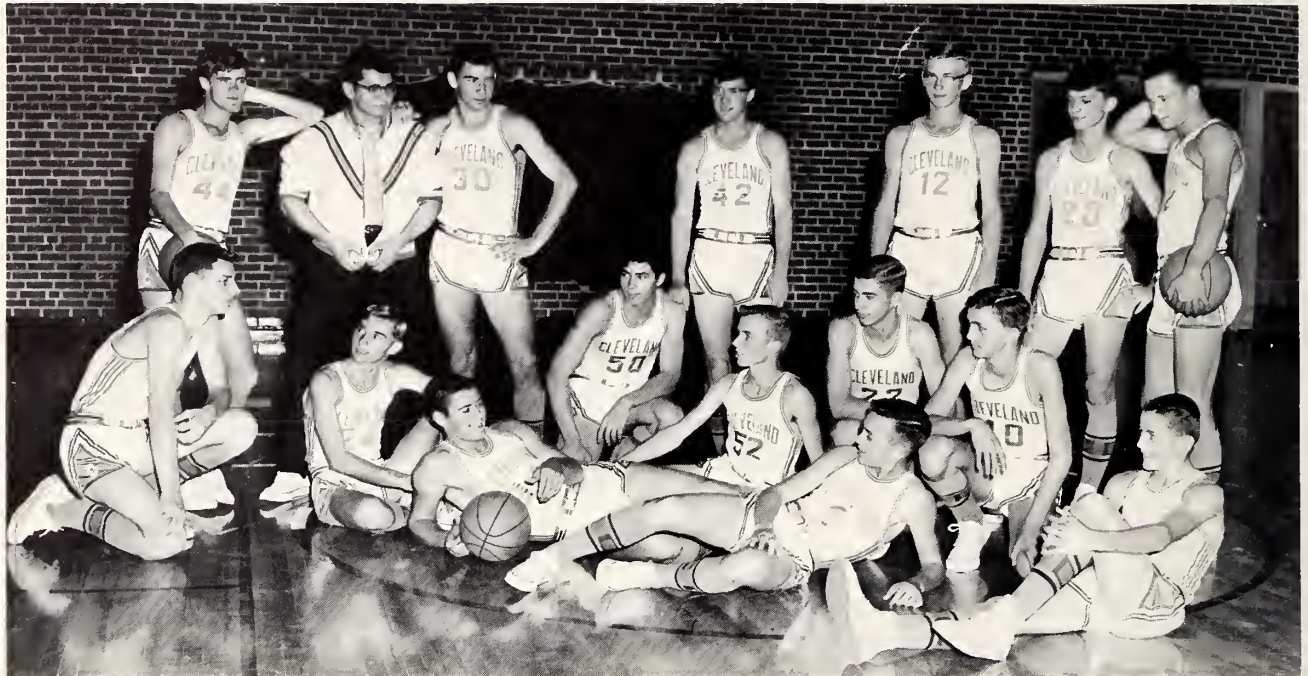

Chalk one up!

Aw, boys, you can do better than that.

Time out for rest?

Cleveland Rams,

LEFT TO RIGHT: Mr. Bruce Coats, Bruce Stephenson, Kenneth Byrd, Ken Stephenson, Frank Austin, Andrew Johnson.

The defending County and Tournament Champion Rams proved again to be the best quint in the county in 1965. This was the third consecutive County and Tournament Championships for the Rams. After successfully defending their crown they represented the county in the District III Play-offs at Rocky Mount. They proved to be very successful only losing in the final game at Red Oak who later was the runner up for the State Class A Championship. The Rams finished the season with a 24-2 Won-Lost Record.

Hit the basket!!

1964-65 Champions!

Batter up!!

The Defending Champion Rams continued their winning way and won the Johnston County Championship for the Second Consecutive Year. The Rams ended the season with an 11-2 Won-Lost Record. The season's highlight was a perfect no-hit, no-run game pitched by Junior left hander Johnie King. The Rams after losing their first game proved to be tough competition for the other teams in the conference. The Rams represented the county in district play, but was defeated 7-3 by Angier.
